THE ASSEMBLY HALL

Built in 1939 our stunning Grade II Assembly Hall was designed by world-renowned architect Sir Herbert Baker.

Natural light streams through the 15 arched windows onto the gallery level, but can be darkened if required. The polished English oak panelling and emblems sit beneath the room's architectural focal point - a striking 30-foot glass dome.

The dome shape of The Assembly Hall can be configured to accommodate a theatre style conference for up to 600, dinner for 372 or reception for 550.

HOARE MEMORIAL HALL

Steeped in history, our Hoare Memorial Hall has a stately atmosphere and played host to the House of Commons for a period during the Second World War. Its elegant oak-panelling, Art Deco Chandeliers, built-in stage and gallery gives the room a strong personality.

The hall is often used in conjunction with the Assembly Hall and is an alternative venue for conferences, seminars, receptions and dinners.
